BOOK REVIEW.

COMMERCIAL LAW CASES—By Harold L. Perrin, LL.M., Ph.D., Professor and Head of the Department of Law of the College of Business Administration, and the College of Secretarial Science, Boston University; and Hugh W. Babb, B.A. (Oxon.), LL.B., Assistant Professor of Law at the College of Business Administration, Boston University. In Two Volumes. New York. George H. Doran Company. Price $7.50 net.

We have had occasion in the late number of the REGISTER to advert to the value of Selected Cases both to the student and the practitioner. This present work devotes itself to commercial law and combines both the text and case book method of teaching law. We have found it, in our opinion, of exceptional value, and its division into sections, each one prefaced by a brief but clear statement of the point of law about to be treated, followed by digested decisions showing the application of the principle, make it peculiarly valuable and of use to students and the profession alike. The authors of the work are practicing lawyers and therefore the theories in the cases are treated in a far more practical manner than usual.
